

As a choreographer I aspire to create a body of work that will evoke emotion and allow viewers to become fully engaged. In order to achieve this, I explore all types of movement and pay close attention to every nuance of the music I have chosen. It is a vital experience when choreography is paired integrally with music. More importantly, as a choreographer and artist I want to educate my community and advance the art form.